What We do: Our Industry

America has the deepest and most liquid capital markets in the world, providing nearly 80% of debt financing for business to grow and expand. Markets foster increased investment in capital stock, including plant, equipment and software; offer U.S. companies a greater diversity of funding sources; more efficiently allocate risk among investors; and promote economic growth and job creation.

The securities industry facilitates access to the capital markets, creating investor opportunity, capital formation, job creation and economic growth.

As of December 31, 2016, market capitalization – the total value of all publicly traded securities – of the U.S. stock market was $28.9 trillion

107 companies conducted initial public offerings in 2016 in the U.S. raising over $17.8 billion.

The U.S. corporate bond market is the largest in the world: over 1,300 companies issued $1.5 trillion in corporate bonds in the U.S. to fund their operations and growth in 2016.

Municipal issuers raised over $445.8 billion in 2016 to finance important community infrastructure projects including roads, bridges, hospitals and universities.
