

Award Winning Legal Services Provider

Managed Document Review; Contract Management; Compliance Services; Legal Spend Management; Legal Operations Consulting

QuisLex delivers the benefits of operational excellence, process rigor, and measurable quality to complex legal work supporting top corporations and law firms throughout the world. We enable our clients to focus on the issues that demand their substantive expertise while we solve the challenges of resource constraints, cost management, flexibility, and scale.

QuisLex was founded in 2004 on the idea that even complex and intricate legal services can be delivered more efficiently by introducing scalable, repeatable, well-managed processes.

In doing so, QuisLex could provide value to our clients in litigation and corporate matters, helping them to minimize risk and cost in managing their legal work worldwide.

motivated work force with process expertise and technological savvy.

Our ability to deliver high quality results in complex, high-volume work using proportionately fewer resources is made possible through process-driven efficiency, strong quality controls and effective use of technology. Our patented Legal Quality Management System, based on Lean with one of the largest, most experienced, and highly-regarded legal services companies in the world.

Ultimately, QuisLex reconfigures the cost/benefit equation, ensuring that you can meet your legal obligations and pursue new initiatives without outsized costs. We do so by bringing the following distinct advantages:

- capacity and expertise that scale to need
- ability to manage complex workflows on a global scale
- innovative solutions that maximize the benefits of the QuisLex partnership

We empower our clients to do more with less. More than just wage arbitrage, QuisLex is positively impacting the practice of law.

Legal Process Excellence QuisLex is structured to provide high-value capabilities with lower associated costs. We do so with a process and procedural excellence that is defined by our patented Legal Quality Management System and by providing the process discipline and human capital necessary to support a client’s matter-specific workflow and legal strategy. ■

“The common denominator across all our services is a non-negotiable requirement for excellence.”

Ram Vasudevan, CEO

We do so with a commitment to client service that underpins everything we do. In shaping our corporate culture, we took the best of US and UK law firm practices including structured training of associates, focus on long-term career development, and strong client management.

What we have developed is the best of both worlds, where the professionalism, client focus and ethics of global law departments and law firms are paired with a highly talented and Six Sigma discipline, improves quality, reduces risk, and provides increased insights through analytics into budget, project management, and outcome.

This innovative alignment of human capital, process discipline, and technology creates opportunities that extend beyond cost and risk mitigation, and enables counsel to pursue new initiatives that support both legal and business strategy, and directly impacts the bottom line. Working with QuisLex means you are partnering

“What I value most is that I can depend on them – everything they commit to they deliver.”

“I have not worked with any comparable firms.”

“It came down to both cost and quality, and they come out on top on both counts.”

“They are very responsive, and they work hand in glove with us.”

“I think QuisLex does a better job and is more responsive than any other LPO I work with.”
