

About Us

Bressler is a multidisciplinary law firm with more than 175 attorneys and offices in New Jersey, New York, Florida, Alabama and Washington, DC. We are committed to representing our clients in a practical, efficient and pro-fessional manner.

Our lawyers have achieved regional and national recognition in their practice areas. We strive to uphold the highest standards of our profession in the service of our clients as they confront today's challenges and opportunities. Our culture is geared toward establishing and strengthening long-term client relationships, with an emphasis on collaborative, efficient and strategic advice and quality legal services. Bressler's size and entrepreneurial business model allow us the flexibility to work with our clients in developing the best possible solution for their circumstances. Our teams are kept to optimal size to provide the highest quality legal advice, utmost efficiency, and seamless, cost-effective service across practices and offices.

We represent Fortune 500 corporations, midsize and small privately held companies, brokerage firms, banks, franchises, insurance companies and nonprofit institutions. The firm also represents clients ranging from emerging companies to high-net-worth individuals and families. We are grateful to our clients for their confidence in our ability to offer unparalleled depth and insight into resolving their disputes and furthering their business or private affairs. We have grown in large measure by referrals from satisfied clients and attorneys outside of the firm who know of our reputation or have seen us in action. We have earned the respect of the judges before whom we appear.

Securities Law

Bressler represents a broad cross section of the world's financial services institutions. We work closely with our clients to implement the chosen strategy through a team selected from our deep bench of battle tested litigators and regulatory lawyers.

We represent financial institutions, individuals and investment firms before arbitration panels, state and federal courts and regulatory bodies throughout the nation. Our clients include many of the leading national and regional brokerage and clearing firms in the U.S. and abroad.

Our regulatory defense lawyers have extensive experience guiding clients through investigations and disciplinary proceedings. We represent firms and their associated persons in connection with regulatory investigations and hearings before financial services industry regulatory bodies, including:

- Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC)
- Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA)
- State attorneys general and securities regulators
- Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC)
- National Futures Association (NFA)
- Registered securities and futures exchanges (CME, ICE)

Bressler attorneys advise investment advisers and their affiliates on the full scope of legal challenges that face this segment of the financial services industry. We also counsel broker-dealers, including broker-dealer affiliates of banks, insurance companies, and investment advisers, with regard to a wide array of legal, regulatory and compliance issues.

Pro Bono

Bressler is committed to providing our clients with the highest quality legal services while adhering to the highest ethical standards in delivering those services.

This commitment to excellence extends to our pro bono clients and the charitable organizations we partner with. We consider it our duty to provide representation to those with meritorious legal challenges but without the means to afford counsel. Our Pro Bono Committee identifies worthy causes and supports the firm's attorneys in providing assistance to a wide variety of organizations.
