Founded in 1976, we are a rapidly growing, international ratings agency with deep roots in Canada. Our four decades' experience and strong track record provide the foundation for us to seek out new opportunities and to make targeted investments that align with our core ratings operations. We do not seek to achieve scale in all markets, but when we choose to enter a new market, we strive to become a leading player known for trusted ratings, opinions and products.

Our approach and our size as the world's fourth-largest ratings agency allow us to be nimble enough to respond to customers' needs in their local markets but large enough to provide the necessary expertise and resources they require. We build meaningful relationships, which contribute to a convincing value proposition for investors and issuers to choose us as a globally accepted alternative to other ratings agencies.
