

Press Policy – SIFMA 2021 AML Conference

At the SIFMA 2021 Anti-Money Laundering & Financial Crimes Conference, the following speakers/sessions are open to the press. The remainder of the conference is closed to the press.

Monday, February 22:

- Welcome remarks: Ira D. Hammerman, Executive Vice President & General Counsel, SIFMA, 12:45 p.m. – 12:55 p.m.
- One-on-One Conversation: Greg Ruppert, Executive Vice President, National Cause and Financial Crimes Detection Programs, FINRA, moderated by Sarah D. Green, Global Head of Financial Crimes Officer, Vanguard Group, Inc., 12:55 p.m. – 1:30 p.m.

Tuesday, February 23:

- Opening Remarks: Ira D. Hammerman, Executive Vice President & General Counsel, SIFMA, 12:50 p.m. – 12:55 p.m.
- One-on-One Conversation: Kenneth A. Blanco, Director, Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN), moderated by Andrea Sharrin, Managing Director, Head of Financial Crime Compliance for the Americas and Global IB, Barclays, 12:55 p.m. – 1:30 p.m.

SIFMA welcomes media coverage of the majority of its virtual events on important industry issues and topics. For SIFMA virtual events, speakers' remarks are on the record unless otherwise noted. SIFMA recognizes that press coverage can help facilitate broader understanding of industry issues. At the same time, however, SIFMA requires the following as it pertains to media participation in/on our SIFMA Virtual Events:

- Reporters must register in advance.
- During webinars, speakers and panelists may be identified and quoted.
- Members of the media should follow-up with SIFMA's communications team if they have questions, as the Q&A during virtual events are designated for SIFMA member questions.
- Media are free to utilize the resources and materials during the virtual event.
- While the majority of its virtual events are on the record, some are for members only in order to permit SIFMA to conduct its activities.

SIFMA Public Affairs Contacts

Katrina Cavalli, (212) 313-1181, kcavalli@sifma.org

Lindsay Gilbride, (202) 962-7390, lgilbride@sifma.org

Evan Grogan, (212) 313-1134, egrogan@sifma.org