SPREAD FINANCIAL EDUCATION

The SIFMA Foundation advances financial education for youth of all backgrounds through its acclaimed programs – The Stock Market Game, Capitol Hill Challenge, Invest It Forward, and InvestWrite. The skills attained by participating in these programs prepare underserved youth for wealth-building opportunities and meaningful careers, carrying them from their earliest financial decisions through retirement. The extraordinary value of financial education empowers young people to thrive in society by reinforcing academics, life skills and social-emotional learning.

By supporting the nonprofit SIFMA Foundation, you can help bring financial education to under-resourced communities and begin to level the economic playing field. The Stock Market Game serves more than 600,000 youth each year, including 300,000 girls, 250,000 young people in underserved communities, and 200,000 youth of color.
